Temperature Drop To Prove Costly For Ohio Farmers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mild temperatures at the end of the eighth warmest February in Ohio's history followed by five straight days of record highs apparently have doomed the state's production of maple syrup.

And if the weather turns cold, as maple producers hope, Ohio's fruit crop will be in big trouble.

Sugar maples need cold weather to make their sap rise. With temperatures in the 60s and 70s since the end of February, the sap has dwindled to a trickle in Geauga County, the center of Ohio's maple industry.

Gauga County grower Richard Timmons said the 200 gallons he has tapped this year apparently is all he will get. Last year's production was 1,500 gallons.

Robert Warner, who makes syrup near Granville, said the 16 gallons he has produced so far is his worst ever. His usual production is around 200 gallons. Last year produced 235.

Another Geauga County grower, Robert Haskins, said the only hope for the maple industry is a "real cold snap" with temperatures in the 20s.

The possibility of weather like that is what's giving fruit farmers the jitters.

Throughout central and southern Ohio, the warm weather has fruit trees about to bloom. Orchard owners say the trees are two weeks to one month ahead of their normal development for this time of year.

Two or three days of temperatures in the 20s would just about wipe out the state's peach and plum crop and would play havoc with the hardier apple trees, they say.

Ornamental plants also would be endangered by a drop in temperatures.

Columbus landscaper Philip Keller said that with a sudden drop in temperatures, "A lot of early blossoms could be nipped and lost."

Another landscaper, James Halsey of Worthington, said the cold would not kill the plants, but would "knock the blossoms off for the year."

The experts said yard plants most likely to suffer would be the early bloomers such as forsythia, dogwood, flowering quince and magnolias.

But a freeze also could affect shade trees which are coming into bud, they said, causing their leaves to darken and curl.

Keller said little can be done if bulbs have sprouted except for mulching the beds if foliage is up and cold weather is anticipated.

freight train they had halted outside Narbonne by tearing up the track. For more than a hour, officials said growers armed with shotguns and machine pistols exchanged fire with police using submachineguns and concussion grenades.

The demonstrators later dispersed, but other groups throughout the southern area maintained road and rail blocks that caused widespread disruption in communications and cut the mail road to Spain.

Among other incidents, growers seized two police agents at Beziers and put them on a domestic flight to Paris, telling them to report to Poniatowski about the discontent.

The southern area produces large quantities of low grade wine, about a million gallons a year, and has long been the scene of trouble over wine prices. The growers have protested imports of Algerian, then Italian and Spanish wine under European Common Market agreements.

In the past, commando squads of growers intercepted tanker trucks of imported wine and emptied their contents in the gutters. Attacks on bottlers of imported wine reached a new height with a raid on a plant Monday by two busloads of southern growers, causing more than $1 million damage, by Poniatowski's estimate.

Arrests for this raid led to a 24-hour spree of violence in which tax offices, electricity lines and television relay stations were bombed.

One effect has been to black out television in the whole area.

Thugs Laughs, Shoots Man

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — A bearded, laughing bandit who giggled as he fired two bullets into a robbery victim got away Thursday with a bank of "junk" leaving $6,000 cash in the car of the victim, Newport police said.

James Bonar, 24, of Newport, was abducted by a heavy, bearded man as Bonar was driving back to Poopy's Carryout from a bank where Bonar picked up $6,000 cash, police reported.

Bonar told suburban Southgate police the gunman forced him to drive to a nearby fishing lake where Bonar was ordered to stop. The gunman then opened fire while laughing. Bonar was shot in the chest and abdomen.

The departing bandit, however, took back containing "junk" from the front seat of the car. The money was in a bag under the seat, police said.

Bonar's condition was reported good at a hospital.

Clearing and cooler tonight with temperatures in the upper 20s. Mostly sunny and cooler Saturday, high, lower 40s. High Thursday was 81, record for the day, with a low during the night of 54.

Jobless Data Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate fell for the fourth straight month in February, dropping to 7.6 per cent from 7.8 per cent, as more Americans found jobs and total employment returned to its pre-recession peak, the government said today.

White House officials have said they expect the downward trend to continue, but they have cautioned that it could level off some months or even increase slightly.

The big January drop in unemployment and the slowing of inflation have provided President Ford with fresh ammunition for his election campaign and efforts to sell his go-slow fiscal 1977 budget to Congress.

A White House spokesman said the Labor Department's report Thursday that wholesale prices dropped by one-half of 1 per cent last month was "further confirmation of what the President and other administration people have been saying about the progress being made against inflation."

And Chairman Alan Greenspan of the President's Council of Economic Advisers said the administration may soon strengthen its basic economic forecast for 1976. "The momentum the economy has underneath it is very solid," he said.

Greenspan said it was "very likely" that unemployment will come in below what was originally forecast, possibly dropping below 7 per cent by the end of the year.

The current administration forecast calls for unemployment to average 7.7 per cent in 1976 and to be between 7 and 7.5 per cent by year's end.

The size of the January drop came as a surprise to some labor economists, who had expected the decline to be about half as large. They suggested part of the five-tenths of a per cent drop could have resulted from statistical aberrations. If that was the case, the economists said the February statistical "correction" could come in the form of a February unemployment rate at the same level or even slightly higher than January's.

Reagan Attacks Ford Policies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ronald Reagan, denying any retreat from his "11th commandment" against saying nasty things about fellow Republicans, charges President Ford with presiding over the country's diplomatic and military decline.

Reagan, challenging Ford for the GOP presidential nomination, unleashed his strongest attack to date against the administration as he stumped for votes in Florida's March 9 primary.

The development came the same day Indiana Sen. Birch Bayh ceased active campaigning for the Democratic nomination and Sargent Shriver, the Democrats' vice presidential nominee four years ago, indicated his future as a candidate for president is in doubt.

Bayh announced in New York on Thursday that he had decided to suspend his campaign after Tuesday's seventh-place finish in Massachusetts' presidential primary. He said he was not quitting altogether, so he could continue to get matching federal money to pay campaign debts.

"It is not easy for me to say the things I must say to you today," Reagan said shortly after arriving in Florida. "But I have decided that matters of national security and defense are beyond politics, and the American people are entitled to my assessment of them."

The former California governor called Ford a man of "evident decency, honor and patriotism" but blasted Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger for allowing the country to lose ground militarily to the Soviet Union.

"In my view, the policy of detente as pursued by the administration is one of

Mental Hospitals Given Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Run down and understaffed state mental hospitals would be upgraded and receive additional help under a major bill that cleared the House Thursday without a dissenting vote.

Passage of the comprehensive measure highlighted activities as the Senate and House held otherwise routine floor sessions and adjourned until next week. The two chambers virtually completed action on five constitutional amendments for the June ballot. They were described mostly as housekeeping proposals.

Rep. Robert W. Jaskulski, D-11 Cleveland, sponsored the bill making sweeping changes in mental hospital administration, including those that beef up the powers of the mental health chief and superintendents to make them responsible for the plight of Ohio's 16,000 patients.

Other provisions in Jaskulski's bill, which followed a five-month investigation of state hospitals by his House finance subcommittee, permit the sale of about $25 million in excess state lands for use by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. Lands to be sold would be designated by the director but would not include those used for institutional farming.

The bill mandates that each of Ohio's 30 institutions for the mentally ill and mentally retarded meet standards of the National Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Hospitals no later than July 1, 1979.

It requires the establishment of physician residency programs at state hospitals to attract help from the state medical schools. The programs, to begin no later than July 1, 1978, would be placed under supervision of medical faculty members at the state supported medical schools and department staff physicians.

Another important feature of the bill establishes a rotary fund not only to contain money from land sales but also that derived from patient support payments, patient insurance, and Blue Cross subscriber benefits.

Jaskulski's bill opens a new source of department funds by saying that in the future, Blue Cross and other health care insurers won't be allowed to withhold benefits for patients receiving treatment at state hospitals if they have insured a patient with a policy that covers mental illness.

Otherwise, hospital superintendents would have more authority to hire and fire administrative personnel who would be removed from civil service status by the bill. Transferred to unclassified status would be those administrative and managerial positions designated by the director.

Jaskulski, widely praised by his colleagues for his subcommittee's work on the bill, said both political parties must share the blame for a situation that grew "out of generations of neglect." The committee's work, he said, will enable the legislature to bring about long overdue improvements.

Among the constitutional amendments headed for the June ballot are three approved by the Senate Thursday by identical votes of 29-0.

They clarify requirements for local governments to make timely repayment of debts from taxes, assure the return to counties of origin of 50 per cent of all estate taxes collected by the state, and consolidate in the constitution all the state's powers of taxation. Three amendments must go back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments.

The House added its approval to a pair of amendments that originated in the Senate. They mostly conform to the Ohio Constitution to the U.S. Constitution. Among other things, they lower the voting age officially from 21 and 18, and provide voting rights for persons living in Ohio 30 days before an election, instead of present language that requires six months. House amendments sent those proposals back to the Senate.

OBES Office To Open Here

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices advanced today following a two-day slide in worries over interest rates.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was ahead nearly three points. And New York Stock Exchange issues advancing in price led those declining by a 4-3 margin.

Trading was active in the early going.

After the session ended Thursday, the Federal Reserve Board reported that the nation's supply of money—defined as currency in circulation plus checking account deposits—had declined $2 billion in the week ending Feb. 25.

It was a steadily rising money supply, and the Fed's move last week to tighten up the flow of credit, that had led many investors to believe that interest rates were headed upward.

A general decline in interest rates had been a major factor in the stock market's bullish rise early this year.

Early prices today included U.S. Steel, up 1/4 to 82 1/2; Asarco Inc., up 1/4 to 17 1/2; and General Instrument, up 1/4 to 11 1/2.

On Thursday, the Dow Jones industrial average dropped 8.19 to 970.64, its second daily decline in a row.

Stormy Weather Stretches Over U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Harsh winter weather stretched from the Rockies to the upper Great Lakes this morning.

Travel advisories due to snow showers in the mountains and northern portions of New Mexico, eastern Colorado and the mountain area through southeast Wyoming were still in effect.

Winter storm warnings were posted for most of Nebraska and all of South Dakota into northwest Iowa and central Wisconsin.

Heavy snow warnings were in force in extreme southeast North Dakota, southern and eastern Minnesota, northwest Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

Tornadoes raged across Missouri and more snow blew into northwest Kansas as part of an unusual and violent storm system that swept across the Midwest Thursday. At least three tornadoes were sighted in Missouri, including a twister that destroyed a mobile home and tipped over another near Mokane in the east central part of the state. A tornado also destroyed a barn north of Buffalo in the southwest part of Missouri and several rural structures north of Mexico in the northeast section. No injuries were reported.

Power lines were downed and communications temporarily disrupted as two tornadoes touched down in western Illinois, but no injuries were reported. State police said a twister swept through Victoria in Know County late Thursday, and another destroyed a barn in rural Lewistown in Fulton County. Authorities said the Victoria tornado knocked out power and communications lines in the community of about 450.

A storm moved through central and eastern Colorado on Thursday, dumping almost a foot of snow on drought-stricken wheat fields. Agricultural experts said the storm could save much of an endangered wheat crop. In Denver, traffic officials reported rush-hour jamming caused by a series of minor collisions.

The Minnesota State Patrol issued hazardous driving warnings for most of Minnesota Thursday night as an early March storm swept through the state. The patrol advised no travel in southwestern Minnesota, where brisk winds were causing drifts on state highways. More than four inches of snow were expected over much of the state.

East of the snow, freezing rain created problems in lower Michigan, where a travel advisory was posted.

Strong thunderstorm winds brought property damage to a number of cities in Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas. Locally heavy rains required flash flood watches for southern Wisconsin and north and central Illinois.

Temperatures overnight ranged from 18 at Minot, N.D., to 75 at Key West, Fla.

Claim Ohio Entitled To Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John F. Seiberling said Thursday Ohio is entitled to $497 million in federal funds for waste treatment plants, but only if the state provides a 25 per cent matching sum by Sept. 30, 1977.

The Ohio Democrat reminded members of the Water Management Association of Ohio of the need for matching money when the group met in Washington.

The Environmental Protection Agency has obligated $473 million for water pollution control in Ohio since the $18 billion national program began in 1972, he said. But in the three years since then, only 159 construction projects totaling $51 million have been completed.

"Because of the (Nixon) administration's impoundment of funds during the early stages of the program, federal funding of projects has proceeded at a slow pace," Seiberling said.

A report issued by the General Accounting Office last month said it is doubtful that all industrial and municipal polluters will be able to construct the necessary facilities to meet water quality standards set for July 1, 1977. EPA estimates that it will take three to six years to plan, design and construct such facilities, Seiberling said.

GAO recommended that EPA be granted authority to grant extensions of the deadline on a case-by-case basis since enforcement actions will probably be ineffective.

Hospital Cost Measure Sent To Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill that supporters describe as "an honest effort" to control hospital costs and Blue Cross premiums has been sent to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

By a vote of 69-25, the House Thursday concurred with Senate amendments to the measure sponsored by Rep. Dennis E. Eckart, D-18 Euclid.

Under the bill, Blue Cross and other health care insurance providers would have to document to the state insurance department their attempts to hold down hospital expenses. These efforts to influence fiscal policies would be made during contract negotiations between Blue Cross and the hospitals, Eckart said.

The insurance superintendent could refuse rate increase requests or modify them if he was not satisfied that the insurer made sufficient efforts.

Rep. Joseph P. Tulley, R-58 Willoughby, who opposed the legislation, said it would set up Blue Cross as a third party "whipping boy," forced to contend with both state regulators and hospital officials.

"Why don't we just license hospitals and tell them that the State of Ohio is going to decide how much they can charge their patients?" he asked.

Supporters argue that the only way to lower health care premiums is to slash hospital expenses by eliminating duplicate services and facilities. Blue Cross collects about $700 million annually in premiums from Ohio subscribers.

Rep. William Hinig, D-96 New Philadelphia, described the bill as "an honest effort to control costs in Blue Cross and hospitals."

Two Men Appear In Court

Al Sedlack of the county prosecutor's office appeared this morning for the State of Ohio against two men charged in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

A Mt. Sterling man, Jack Beekman, appeared on an original charge of carrying a concealed weapon. After negotiations with the prosecutor's office, the charge was reduced to carrying improper firearms in a motor vehicle. Judge William Ammer sentenced Beekman to six months in the county jail and then suspended all of the sentence except for 30 days and placed him on probation for one year.

Franklin Morgan's charge of receiving stolen property was reduced after negotiations to a misdemeanor setting the value of the stolen property at less than $150. Morgan was fined $1,000.

Charge Man After Crash

Two people were injured, neither seriously, in a single car accident Thursday night on the Kingston Pike at the intersection of Route 361.

Driver of the car, Rick J. Sumner, 22, Columbus, suffered a lacerated chin, and a passenger, 22-year-old George E. Townsend of Hanahan, S.C., suffered a minor injury to his right arm.

Both men were treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room and released.

Another passenger, Stephen J. Hannan, 20, Columbus, was not hurt.

According to Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff J. Phillip Brown, Sumner was driving south on the Kingston Pike and failed to stop at the intersection of Route 361. His car skidded 75 feet across Route 361 before crashing into a ditch on the south side.

Sumner was charged with failing to stop at a stop sign.

LONDON (AP) — The pound sterling, once the world's elite currency, dipped below the $2 mark for the first time ever on foreign exchanges today.

In nervous dealings, the pound traded at $1.9960 early in the afternoon to hit its low point. The previous lowest price was $2.0135 last Nov. 28.

Dealers could not immediately pinpoint the reasons for the drop. However, tension in Africa, centering on Mozambique's closing of its border with Rhodesia two days ago was said to be affecting currency markets.

At midmorning the pound had been quoted at around $2.0073, down from $2.0144 late Thursday. One dealer said trading was fairly active.

Harsha Co-Sponsors Rate Control Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Residential users of electricity could pay lower rates if legislation co-sponsored by Congressman William H. Harsha today is eventually enacted into law.

"Electric bills have become so outrageously high that home electricity now often costs more than mortgage payments," said Harsha. "This leaves many low and middle income families without the means to make both ends meet."

The bill, H. R. 12180, entitled the "Lifetime Rate Act of 1976", would require all distributors of electricity to reduce their rates to residential users, including farmers, to a level no higher than the "lowest rate" they charge business, industries, and their most favored customers.

Residential users in all 50 states could purchase at this "lowest rate" a substance quantity of electricity—that needed to supply the principal residence of the consumer with electricity needed for cooking, heating, lighting, cooling, and food refrigeration, considering seasonal fluctuations.

Harsha said that his legislation could reverse the common practice of today where the more electricity a consumer uses, the less is paid per kilowatt-hour.

"There are many people on limited incomes who are very frugal in their uses of electricity, and they are the ones who are paying the highest rate," said Harsha. "I feel that the user who uses the least electricity should pay the least amount per kilowatt-hour and this is what the bill would accomplish."

This kind of "upside-down" rate policy has resulted in "confiscatory residential rates" and actually promotes energy waste during a period of great shortage, according to Harsha.

He said that quantity discounts to promote sales may have been justified at a time of surplus when there apparently was an inexhaustible supply of energy worldwide, but at a time of shortage, the current rate structure is "both foolish and absolutely indefensible when everyone else is being asked to save and to cut back on their use of all forms of energy."

Spanish Outbreaks Continue

VITORIA, Spain (AP) — This tense Basque city prepared today to bury three workers slain in the worst labor riots since the death of Gen. Francisco Franco last November.

Meanwhile, sympathy strikes and confrontations with police spread to other cities in the region.

Pedro Maria Martinez Ocio, 37, Francisco Aznar Clemente, 17, and Romualdo Barroso Chaparro, 19, were killed Wednesday when police fired into rioting mobs in Vitoria, 175 miles northeast of Madrid.

More than 100 other persons were injured. At least nine remained in serious condition, including a police inspector who lost an eye when he was hit by a firebomb.

Many streets in Vitoria still were littered with glass, broken lamp posts, logs and stones. A communique from city hall Thursday expressed regret over the confrontations.

Strikes were illegal under Franco's 36-year dictatorial rule but have been generally tolerated under the new government of King Juan Carlos.

On Thursday, there were more clashes in Vitoria between police and workers, who are supporting a two-month strike by 6,000 metal workers demanding higher pay.

The violence spread to the nearby cities of Pamplona and Bilbao.

Labor sources estimated 20,000 workers in Pamplona, 50 miles east of Vitoria, walked off their jobs and erected street barriers and battled police.

Several thousand workers and students demonstrating in Bilbao, 30 miles north of Vitoria, were dispersed by charging riot police, witnesses said.

Crash Kills Drag Racer

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — A flaming crash at the DeSoto Memorial Speedway dragstrip east of here has claimed the life of pro-stock driver Richard Ernest Metts, officials say.

Metts, 27, of Salem, Ohio, was reportedly killed instantly Thursday when his Plymouth Duster went out of control and smashed into a guardrail during a test run in preparation for the coming drag-racing season.

Witnesses said the dragster was going at about 100 m.p.h. when it began fishtailing. They said it roared across an adjacent strip, slammed into a guardrail, bounced up and clipped a utility pole in half and crashed down in flames.

Metts, his body engulfed, was thrown a few feet from the burning wreckage, the witnesses said.

Rescue crews were on the scene within moments but were driven back from the body by the intense heat.

APPREHENSION — Kathy Ferrell opens her mouth for Dr. James P. Henahan of The State Department of Health, Dental Division for the Southeast District out of Logan, as he examines her teeth. Although Kathy appears ready for a fast get-away she found her fears unwarranted as Dr. Henahan cleaned her teeth and treated them with fluoride. This service was provided for all second grade

Foreign Aid Amendment Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amendment to a House-passed foreign aid appropriation bill could deprive many countries of their share of U.S. aid, handlers of the bill say.

They predicted Thursday night that the amendment added to the $5.39-billion bill would never become law. They said they are counting on the Senate to reshape the bill by removing the amendment.

The amendment would ban use of any of the foreign aid money for countries delinquent for more than a year in repaying any uncontested debts to the United States.

This provision was adopted, 229 to 139, despite warnings that it could make Israel, Syria, Egypt and some 50 other countries ineligible for the funding.

The bill contains, with minor modifications, President Ford's package of more than $3 billion in special funds designed to maintain a delicate military-diplomatic balance in the Middle East and aid peace negotiations.

The bill was sent to the Senate by a 214 to 152 vote. If the Senate deletes the debt provision, as backers of the measure predicted, the measure will go to conference and the House will be under heavy pressure to agree.

Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., chairman of the subcommittee that wrote the original bill, told reporters the debt amendment "has no more chance to become law than I do to retrieve a moon buggy."

"It will be deleted in conference. It just can't be made to work. It was an emotional thing at the end of a long day. It was a good one to demagogue on."

Some Republicans concurred. Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said similar amendments were adopted in the past but "end up on the cutting room floor."

But the author of the provision, Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., denied that it would wreck the legislation, saying, "it merely establishes the policy that loans which are due are expected to be repaid."

The House passed the big money measure, covering a 15-month period beginning last July 1, only a day after passing a bill authorizing $4.8 billion for the military part of the foreign aid programs. This bill was sent to a conference committee to resolve differences between it and a Senate-passed $4.4-billion military aid authorization.

A Senate committee is scheduled to take up the foreign aid appropriation measure next week. That appropriation measure, which will cover both military and economic foreign aid, contains no dollar figure at this point. Like the House, the Senate will have to pass the authorization measures before it can vote on the appropriations.

Police Chief Quits At New Lexington

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Police Chief Floyd Meadows resigned Thursday, two months after being appointed to the post. He gave no reason for his action, which is effective March 15.

Meadows was appointed last December after serving as probationary chief since last summer, when Berle Wheeler resigned in a dispute with City Council.

Mayor Edgar Martindale said he had a few candidates in mind for the job. If a new chief is not named by the time Meadows' resignation becomes effective, a sergeant will be installed as interim chief, Martindale said.

Dogs And People Suffer Diseases

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Dogs suffer many of the same diseases as people, including arthritis, heart diseases, dietetic and kidney problems. They also suffer ailments of old age and have bones broken, need corrective surgery and specialized treatment.

Many pet hospitals today are as modern and up-to-date as hospitals for humans. When a dog enters a veterinary hospital for an examination, it can be given blood tests and X-rays as needed, sometimes even a dental checkup, but cavities are rare among dogs.

Dr. Eddie Gunner, a Fresno veterinarian, says many of the same surgical instruments as well as drugs are used to treat a dog's illness as are used for humans.

Doctor Quits State Position

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Gordon F. Ogram, 54, resigned Thursday as commissioner of the division of mental health of the state Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to become clinical director at Tiffin State Hospital.

The announcement of the resignation, which becomes effective at the end of this month, was made by department director, Dr. Timothy B. Moritz.

Company Extends Insulation Plan

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Reynolds and Reynolds Co. said it has expanded its rebate plan on home insulation to include the 452 workers at its Celina, Ohio plant.

Last week the maker of business forms and electronic data processing systems announced it would pay the 820 employees at its Dayton plant a 20 per cent rebate on the costs of insulating their attics as a means of encouraging natural gas savings.

Company president E.F. Strasser said initial employee reaction has been "most encouraging."

In 1002 B.C. the American Indians had domesticated plants, most important of which was corn, which they called maize.

John Davis Speaker For NSA

NSA SPEAKER — John Davis, professor at the Ohio State University, formerly of Circleville, guest speaker for Roundtown Chapter NSA recently, used as his topic "Pagans Have More Fun." Shown with him is Joy Slone, selected to represent the chapter in the Roundtown Crier Contest in conjunction with Berger Hospital Guild's Follies project.

Guest speaker for the recent meeting of Roundtown Chapter, National Secretaries Assn. was John Davis, associate professor of classics at the Ohio State University.

He is formerly of Circleville and is known by many residents from his drum corps connections in the area in the 1970's. He selected for his topic "Pagans Have More Fun."

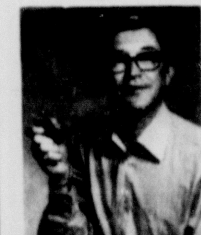

Aligning the time aspect of the period he would be dealing with, he said that from Homer-750 B.C. to Ulysses 250 A.D., a period of 1000 years of recorded history was covered. From Chaucer-1300 A.D. to the current period only 600 years have been covered. Most people feel that studying this time period is a waste, yet our architecture, art, political system and literature is based on these writings. The only truly new form of literature to evolve is the short story. Pagan come from the word paganos which means "hick" someone in that time period who did not know of religion. He did not have access to communication as we have. They lived in remote areas and to them the Gods were very important. Each God had his own area, such as Aphrodite - Love, Achilles - Warrior, Zeus and Hera - King and Queen of the Gods, Appollo - Speed. The Gods were without human needs, they were not all powerful and not always there as the Christian concept of our God. They went on forever, they had no compassion.

Mr. Davis quoted several examples from Homer's "The Odyssey", also

THE COLONIAL LOOK

Jewelry styles have become very diversified since the colonial period in American history, and yet a vein of tradition has survived from that time. This is evident from an examination of jewelry fashion of the period.

In the Massachusetts Colony wedding bands were criticized as being too ostentatious for good Puritans. However, the French born Revere family was permitted to operate a gold and silver smithy. Both Paul Revere and his father sold gold rings, fluted silver spoons, and children's porringers adorned with lacy handles.

In New York the Dutch were less austere. Even before 1700 jewelry stores were growing up along "the Broadway" to Boston, and by 1743 jewelry was being brought from Europe. The New York girls liked diamond earrings and fancy bosom buttons, to hold their bodices tightly together. Men used silver seals for stamping wax monograms on their letters and shiny buckles for their evening shoes. Fancy jeweled canes were sported by gentlemen who could walk very well without them but not nearly as elegantly.

Other popular items carried sentimental value. Locketts encased pictures of loved ones. Hoop rings of small diamond pieces set in yellow gold were the first engagement rings and later became guard rings for the wedding band. The first solitaire sailed in on a ship to New York in 1764, but it was not yet intended to symbolize an engagement.

As you can see, some of these jewelry items are still in vogue. The tradition reflected in the jewelry art salutes the achievements of our nation on its 200th birthday.

Other league members are painting pictures of buildings of historical interest on wooden circles which will be placed on their location of the map. The names of streets will be printed and the sites of former and present significant edifices will be listed at the side. These are being prepared by Johnda Davis of Pickaway County Historical Society. Following luncheon at Pickaway Arms, discussion was held as to where to place the four by five foot plywood map upon its completion. Other artists working on the map are Louise Morrow, Martha Reid and Lissa Yapple.

Monthly All-Day Meeting Held By Senior Citizens

Pickaway Senior Center members and guests met Thursday, in the Lutheran Parish House. The morning hours were spent visiting and playing games. Arrangements for the carry-in dinner at noon were handled by Blanche Kerns, with Helen Weidman, Ethel Lane and Pauline Jones looking after the kitchen duties.

Pastor Carl Zehner offered the table prayer. Special guests for the meal were the workers who were helping with the Hearing Clinic being held throughout the day. Seventy people had their hearing tested, through the cooperation of audiologists from the Ohio Department of Health in Columbus, assisted by Jaycee Wives of Circleville.

Another special guest was Mrs. Mabel Walker who brought two of her handmade quilts which were displayed, and about which she talked during the afternoon program.

Blanche Kerns conducted the business meeting. The name of Galina Ivascu was drawn and she was declared "Senior Citizen Of The Month" and received a gift. "Happy Birthday" was sung to all who had January and February birthdays, since the January meeting had been cancelled due to the bad weather. Okie Boyer was especially honored for his 99th birthday which he celebrated on Feb. 11. He and his two daughters, Miss Ethel Boyer and Mrs. Maneva Ross, who reside at 220 Edwards Road, were all present.

Carol McKinley of the Ohio Department of Health, spoke briefly about the Diabetes Clinic which will be conducted in various parts of the County beginning with March 23 at Tarlton. Schedules will be listed in The Herald.

Pastor Zehner spoke to the group about his hobby of wood carving. He had brought many of the pieces he has completed, as well as some unfinished, and demonstrated some simple techniques. He is a member of the Columbus Wood Chippers and also the National Woodcarvers and would be interested in getting a group organized in Pickaway County. Men and women may belong. Anyone interested is invited to call the Pickaway Senior Center and let us know.

Other recent activities of Pickaway Senior Center members involved 20, mostly from the Ashville area, who visited the Eastland Vocational Center in Columbus. They were guests of the school for lunch, a tour of the facilities, and some of the ladies had shampoos and hairsets.

On May 2 the art students from the Center went in the PICCA bus to the State House to view the Senior Citizen Art Exhibit. Those going were: Clara DeLong, Beatrice Owens, Ethel Hoover, Mary Bales, Dorothy Smith, Ruth Woodward and Vera Saunders, the instructor. Omer Abner was the mini-bus driver. The scheduled auction sale by the Governor was not held since the Governor was out of town. It has been rescheduled for Friday, March 5. Three of the entries from Circleville had been sold, one painted by Dorothy Smith, one of Ruth Woodward's and one by Vera Saunders.

The next group meeting will be March 11 at Ashville.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Bothered By His Patient Relationship

DEAR ABBY: I am in shock. The other day I found my puppy which had been missing for two days. I happily went to show her to my husband, who is a dentist. (His office is in our home.)

When I walked, in I found him passionately kissing a woman patient in the dental chair! Naturally when they discovered me they were both very much embarrassed, and my husband tried to pass it off as a "holiday" kiss. Believe me, it was no holiday kiss. They were both putting everything they had into it!

The woman is married and younger than both my husband and me (we are middle-aged). We have children, and I don't want them to know. Also, I don't want to ruin my husband's practice by making a public stink of it.

My husband insists there was nothing to it. I thought he was getting all the affection he needed at home, but maybe I was wrong. What should I do?

IN SHOCK IN MONTREAL

DEAR IN: Don't mention the incident to him. Just carry on as though it never happened and let him crown himself trying to make it up to you.

DEAR ABBY: A seamstress wrote to you complaining because a lady expected her to work on clothes that reeked of B.O.!

I don't know where the seamstress lives, but in Michigan, seamstresses and tailors are protected by law against such impositions.

Anyone who sews for the public may refuse to accept a soiled garment. Or they may accept it, send it out to be dry-cleaned and add the cost of the cleaning to the cost of alteration.

SEWS IN MICHIGAN

DEAR SEWS: Seems like a good law. If other states don't have it, someone should start needling their legislators to mend their ways.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 16-year-old son. Ever since Sonny was 12 years old he has been "in love with someone. Right now he's in love with a 13-year-old girl. She lives out of town, and the phone bills he's been laying on me are unbelievable. He gave her a ring for Christmas. It wasn't very expensive. It looks like a diamond, but isn't.

Anyway, Sonny wants to quit school and get a job so he can marry this girl. When I told him he was foolish to think of marriage at his age, he said Romeo and Juliet were only 13 years old. (Is that true, or did Sonny just make that up?)

Actually, I don't care what Romeo and Juliet did. I don't want my son to marry any 13-year-old girl.

Can I stop him?

UPSET IN MINNESOTA

DEAR UPSET: Yes. Sonny and his girlfriend are much too young to marry in Minnesota without parental consent. And even though Juliet was 13 and Romeo was slightly older, times have changed a lot since 1300 A.D. (P.S. But use friendly persuasion before resorting to the law.)

Milk Support Hike Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is acting to raise the milk price supports it pays farmers, a move Department of Agriculture economists say will aid farmers by stopping possible major declines in supermarket prices.

One of the economists said consumer dairy costs probably will remain fairly stable.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz announced Wednesday that effective April 1 price supports for milk used in the manufacture of butter, cheese and other products would rise 5.4 per cent to $8.13 per 100 pounds of milk. The current support is $7.71.

The action will prevent any major decline in consumer prices for milk and milk products, USDA economists said.

Butz said the increase is necessary to help offset farmers' rising production costs and to insure an adequate flow of milk. He added the supports would be reviewed quarterly and adjusted if necessary to maintain the supply.

The price support involves an indirect subsidy to farmers. When milk prices fall below the support level, the government buys surplus butter, cheese and dried milk to boost the prices back to the support level.

Allowing for 11.6 gallons of milk in each 100 pounds, the increase is equal to about 3.6 cents per gallon or nearly 1 cent per quart for milk used in making dairy products.

Veterans Questions Answered

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week, the Circleville Herald will publish a series of questions and answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information on any question concerning his Veterans Administration Benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer at the new location, 219 S. Court St.

(Q.) I understand there is some kind of a State Law which allows a disabled veteran to fish without a license. Is this true?

(A.) This is true . . . to a degree. To be allowed to hunt or fish without a license, the veteran must be totally and permanently disabled, and he must have in his possession a letter from the Veterans Administration to this effect. The law does not indicate whether the total and permanent disability should be service connected or not, so we will assume it is safe to say that either way is acceptable.

(Q.) I am attending school under the G. I. Bill. Is the money I receive from the VA taxable?

(A.) No VA benefit is taxable. And, neither is the money you receive from the Ohio Vietnam Bonus.

(Q.) Under the new Pension Law which went into effect on January 1, 1976, what are the ceiling rates of income?

(A.) For a single veteran it is $3,000 per year, and for a veteran with dependents, it is $4,500 per year. This same law increased Special Aid and Attendance benefits from $123 per month to $133 and Housebound benefits from $49 per month to $53.

(Q.) What was the effect on veterans' benefits of President Ford's proclamation ending the Vietnam Era on May 7, 1975?

(A.) Potential eligibility for persons entering service after May 7 was terminated for such wartime benefits as non service connected disability pensions for veterans, burial allowances and non service connected death pensions for widows and surviving children. Unaffected was GI Bill educational training for which eligibility is linked to service dates established by Congress.

(Q.) Can my entitlement to a VA guaranteed home loan be restored if my buyer assumes my equity in the home I am currently buying?

(A.) Yes, if the buyer is an eligible veteran and agrees to use his enlistment to the same extent your entitlement was used. This is one of the new provisions of the 1974 Veterans Housing Act.

Emergency Team Responds To 59 Calls

The Circleville Emergency medical team responded to 59 emergency calls during the month of February.

The majority of the calls, 45, were within the Circleville Corporation limits. Ten were to Circleville Twp., 3 were to Washington Twp., and one was to Pickaway Twp. Other townships contracting for service are Jackson and Wayne.

Twenty-two of the calls were for illness, 12 for personal injuries, nine for cardiac patients, and three for auto accident injuries. Squadmen responded to 13 other calls dealing with O.B. patients, fire reports, cancelled calls, and dead persons.

The vehicle traveled 297 miles, an average of five miles per emergency call.

Fifty-nine team members worked 1,162 regular hours (not counting Plectron standby). Each volunteer contributed an average of 19 hours.

On Books And Activities At The Library

From the number of garden books going across the check-out desk, a lot of people are getting ready to dig. If you have thoughts of planting new things or redoing your old landscape, now's the time to start planning. Later on all of the books are apt to be in circulation.

Another good suggestion is to check out the books on canning, freezing and preserving while you have time to copy down the recipes. When the good things to eat start appearing in the garden, it's too late to figure out what to do with them.

Plan ahead and make the Pickaway County District Public Library your headquarters for information.

There will be a National Geographic film at 7:30 p.m. this Friday. The film is here now! "Look Back In Sorrow" deals with the plight of those colonists who remained Loyalists during the conflict. Call 474-2318 to let us know you are coming. It's free and open to everyone.

Northern Ohio Growth To Be Less

CLEVELAND (AP) — Northern Ohio will have a slower rate of economic growth than the rest of the state but Cleveland's diversified industrial base will continue to be the area's main strength, a study prepared for a state agency concludes.

The study by the Arthur D. Little consulting firm of Cambridge, Mass., says the slower rate of growth here stems from the high number of obsolete plants, the slowing down of the labor migration to the area, relatively high labor costs, the natural gas shortage and the expected slow growth of the automobile industry.

The report also states that renewed growth will depend on considerable investment in new facilities and a reorientation of the industrial base towards fast growing enterprises.

Little, one of the nation's oldest consulting firms, prepared the report for the Ohio Power Siting Commission as part of a study to forecast electric power demand in the area.

One of the main conclusions is that although the area's manufacturing will rise, it will do so at a slower rate than the rest of the county and will represent a declining part of the nation's total output.

"Today Cleveland boasts a diversified industrial base located in America's heartland," the study says. "Of seven major cities (Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Pittsburgh and St. Louis) Cleveland ranks first in diversity of employment."

this week's non-fiction. Martha Yates has written a survival manual for women alone. "Coping" is intended to help the single, widowed, or divorced woman deal with just about every problem "aloneness" may present.

Many young parents are returning to the idea of having their babies at home. High hospital costs and some recent studies on having healthier babies are encouraging this. "Childbirth At Home" by Marion Sousa takes a close look at the prospect and offers some helpful advice.

"Good Things For Babies" by Sandy Jones is a new sourcebook of safety and consumer advice about products needed during baby's first 2 years.

Two new handbooks on wide-apart subjects include "The Food Co-op Handbook" to help you bypass supermarkets and "Writing For Television and Radio" by Robert Hilliard.

For the artist, "The Natural way To Draw" by Kimon Nicolaides is reported to be the best how-to book on drawing.

One of America's most famous soap operas was created by Agnes Nixon. She called it "All My Children." Dan Wakeful has written a book on the real life story of the popular program. "All Her Children" takes a look behind the scenes at the actors, the crew and the creator.

A new nostalgic novel by Leslie Paul is the story of a brief spell in the lives of two English boys during WW II. "The Waters And The Wild" catches the spirit of boys on their way to becoming men.

A chilling gothic set in Massachusetts mixes murder with reincarnation. Gothic fans will enjoy "The Haunted Portrait" by Ann Ashton.

Be sure to check the shelves for several new copies of old favorites. Seifert Caldwell, and Thane are among the authors. We've also added some titles from last year that are new to our collection.

Two novels by May Mackintosh are romantic suspense stories. "Assignment In Andorra" and "The Sicilian Affair" will keep you intrigued.

If adventure stories are your forte, "The Destroyers" by Douglas Reeman should appeal to you. It's the story of a destroyer flotilla in action in WW II.

"The Bomb That Could Lip-Read" by Donald Seaman combines political intrigue and a daring mercenary.

Historical fiction always holds excitement for the reader. "The Snow Mountain" by Catherine Gavin is a novel of the Russian Revolution. "The Paladin" by George Shipway is the struggle among 3 brothers for the crown of their father — William the Conqueror.

"The Last Night At The Ritz" by Elizabeth Savage is a study in characters as they take a nostalgic look back at their lives.

"A Strange God" by Thomas Savage is the story of a successful man compelled to do battle against a destiny that will not be denied.

Come in and get a fresh start on Spring. Why not begin with one of the books in our special section for reading during Lent?

OCSEA Contract Wins Approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the state Department of Transportation and the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association announced on Thursday the signing of a new, three-year labor pact covering about 5,000 OCSEA members.

OCSEA executive director Karl E. Stewart said it was the "first major labor contract covering state employees that the Rhodes administration has entered into...since the governor assumed office in January 1975."

Stewart said the OCSEA represents over 60 per cent of the department's more than 6,000 employees.

Insurance Bill Passed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Representatives approved unanimously and sent the Senate Thursday a measure that seeks to protect Ohioans from insurance companies on the verge of bankruptcy.

Rep. Vernon F. Cook, D-39 Cuyahoga Falls, chief sponsor, said a growing number of insurance company insolvencies in Ohio prompted the legislation.

He said inflation and mismanagement have contributed to the demise of firms and that he feels "regulation is the key" in trying to avoid them.

Cook's bill increases the power of the insurance director to regulate firms and increases fees charged for state examination of companies. It sets procedures designed to help avoid insolvencies but at the same time establishes priorities for the distribution of assets when a company goes under.

Community UM Plans Lenten Observance

The Community United Methodist Church will be having a "Festival of Christian Living" as a special celebration during Lent. It will be held on March 7, 14, 21 and 28 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. each evening. At 6:30 there will be study classes for all ages.

Adults will have three options: "Bible Study on the Gospel of John" led by Rev. David Frazer which will be supplemented by slides of the Holy Land; "Christian Mission and American Patriotism" led by Sharyn Blecha and Blois Grissom dealing with the relationship between religion and the state; "A Workshop for Parents of Youth" led by Larry Lewis.

Both the Junior and Senior High Youth will meet as groups, and there will be a special media class for all children.

At 7:40 there will be a worship experience. A "Singspiration" is planned for March 7 with a chance to sing old and new songs of the church. March 14 will be a multi-media celebration called "Behold I Make All Things New." On March 21 "Good News" will present the musical "Celebration of Hope." And the last week, the Junior Choir will perform the musical "Rock On the Head." Each evening will be concluded with a time of fellowship. A nursery will be provided during the worship experience.

In its day, "The World's Largest Country Store," was operated in Strasburg, Ohio in Tuscarawas County. It was established in 1866 by Philip Garner to supply every need of country and village life, and had a department to furnish the peculiar needs of large Amish settlements.

Lent Looks To Others' Conditions

NEW YORK (AP) — Lent, a 40-day Christian period of deepening spiritual commitments, started Wednesday, and it used to be focused mainly on one's own condition, but now it increasingly looks out in concern for others.

That shifting orientation is especially pointed up this year in an interfaith program called "Operation Rice Bowl," planned to help feed the world's malnourished and starving people.

It "is motivated by the single thought, 'I have bread and my brother has not bread,'" says the Rev. Msgr. Robert J. Coll, of Allentown, Pa., chairman of the project conceived there with Protestant and Jewish clergymen.

It is being sponsored as part of an International Eucharistic Congress, a worldwide assembly of Roman Catholics to be held next Aug. 1-8 in Philadelphia, with other Christians also taking part.

In the special Lenten program, families are asked to skip one usual meal each week, substituting sharply reduced fare, with the resulting savings contributed for church relief to the underfed.

"We ask American families gathering around their dining room tables to make their tables an altar, to pray and to eat a sacrificial meal," Msgr. Coll says. "This will lead them to experience the agony, the pain of hunger."

"Through prayer, through experiencing hunger, through making this sacrifice, families will learn an important spiritual lesson."

It also, he adds, will help ease the plight of the world's more than 500 million people, half of them children, who live on the edge of starvation, and of whom 10 million die annually from malnutrition.

Lent, a pre-Easter observance commemorating the 40 days Jesus fasted in the wilderness before beginning his ministry, used to reflect a medieval view of "mortifying the flesh" to make the body subject to the spirit.

Elements of this self-disciplining, repentant aspect continue, but the churches lately have stressed that the self-denial should not be only for one's own sake, but to serve others and a broader purpose.

On its opening day, "Ash Wednesday," Lent has a somber note with special services of devotion. In Catholic and some Episcopal churches, the foreheads of worshippers are marked in ashes with a cross, as the priest says:

"Remember, man, that you are dust, and to dust shall you return."

Although the Catholic Church has eliminated meatless Fridays through most of the rest of the year, that rule still applies on Fridays of Lent. In many churches, there also are special week-day preaching services.

The observance reaches its high points in the final week, including "Holy Thursday," commemorating Jesus' last supper, and "Good Friday," marking his crucifixion, before the joyful celebration of the resurrection Easter Sunday.

Nicholas Longworth who settled in Cincinnati, Ohio in about 1803 was a horticulturist who pioneered the development of Ohio fruit production including the strawberry. He imported many varieties of European grapes but found none commercially successful except the native Catawba. His choice Catawba wines took prizes in many agricultural fairs.

The scene from the Hill. It's up to him to inform the rest of us, and in these complicated times, that isn't easy. But his job is communication, to get the facts, to give them to us straight.

He represents a Freedom... one of those precious gifts guaranteed to us under our Constitution. The Church represents another Freedom.

These Freedoms, and the word itself, have special meaning just now when we're celebrating our Bicentennial. Let's not lose sight of them.

It's a birthday present we owe ourselves.

Indiana Woman Wins Ohio Lottery

CLEVELAND (AP) — For Thelma E. Thomas of Brookville, Ind., it's a matter of spending her winnings from the Ohio Lottery as fast as she can.

"I don't have long to live, so I'm going to spend all I can," said the 62-year-old retired woman after winning the top prize in the Buckeye 1,000 here Thursday.

The money, she said, will allow her and her retired husband, Roscoe, to buy a camper and go fishing. "I'm going camping as soon as I can before the relatives come around for loans," she quipped.

She will receive $1,000 a month for life and is guaranteed $400,000.

Lottery spokesman said the other winners were Laura E. Carpenter of Springfield, $7,500; Ralph T. Marilla of Warren, $5,000; Samuel J. DiRocco of Leetonia, $4,000; Robert O. Brode of Parkersburg, W. Va., $3,000; Otho Stevens of Springfield, $2,000 and Margaret M. Balliet of Galion, $1,000.

Company Fined For Mining Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Becko Construction Co. of Zanesville was fined $500 after being found guilty of strip mining coal in southwestern Muskingum County without a license, the state Department of Natural Resources said.

The action came on a charge filed last December by the department's division of reclamation.

Emergency Vehicle Service Manned By Volunteers

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a public information project sponsored by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce and prepared by the Health Committee.

The remark has been made that our society would have a difficult time meeting the needs of its people if it were not for volunteers. The point is well taken as one examines the motives, purpose and functions of those dedicated volunteers who staff the emergency vehicle service.

First of all, 62 enthusiastic training course graduates, both men and women on an equal basis are expected to contribute six hours per week to the program. The headquarters on West Main Street is staffed from 7 a.m. to midnight and by means of Plectron radio equipment, volunteers on duty midnight to 7 a.m. make it 24 hour coverage.

The emergency vehicle is owned by the city of Circleville and purchased with the aid of Federal Revenue sharing moneys and became a reality on July 1, 1975. The program was originally planned at the first meeting in May, 1974. July, 1974 saw the first training class graduated.

There have now been three classes and another one is anticipated. The course of instruction under the auspices of The Trade and Industrial Division of the State of Ohio covers 66 hours of concentrated study and practical effort from the students whose chief duty of course is to stabilize a patient and transport him to professional help with the least trauma as quickly as is safely possible. Currently 4 townships are served by the service: Circleville, Wayne, Jackson and Washington and negotiations are underway to include Pickaway. In talking to Jack Mader, operations chief of the group, we were informed that approximately 50-55 "runs" per month are made with a concentration of those calls varying to the extent that it's impossible to say when the most are required. Calls for the vehicle are relayed by the police and sheriff's departments where the emergency calls are originally placed. This helps to screen some calls which are not truly emergencies and it should be stated that the service should be used only for actual emergency situations not able to be handled by the family car as transportation to the hospital.

Each ambulance run involves time and money and although it is there for the benefit of our citizens in distress, it should be called upon only when absolutely necessary. Mr. Mader cited examples of emergency runs for the benefit of cardiac and choking victims already adn the service has obviously been the means of saving lives in the community. He urges well meaning bystanders to refrain from moving accident victims before the ambulance arrives to prevent possible further or more severe injury.

If the situation is serious enough for the emergency vehicle to be called, then it is serious enough to keep the patient immobilized in almost all cases. Mr. Dick Fisher is the administrative president of the group which has productive monthly business meetings to discuss problems and their solutions.

Our Circleville area quite obviously is much the better for our attainment of this emergency vehicle service and its dedicated staff of citizen volunteers.

Urge Continuation Of Rail Routes

CLEVELAND (AP) — The president of the Chessie System Inc. has called on ConRail, the federally reorganized rail system that takes over bankrupt lines soon, not to change the routes it will share with private railroads.

"ConRail should explicitly provide for the continuance of the rates, routes and channels of trade currently in existence between the solvent carriers and the bankrupt railroads comprising the new ConRail system," said Hayes T. Watkins, the president, in a speech Thursday prepared for the Transportation Association of America in New York City.

Watkins said cancellation of the joint routes would jeopardize the competition between ConRail and the other carriers who do not have the benefit of federal support.

ConRail is to take over operations of seven bankrupt northeastern railroads, including Penn Central Transportation Co. and Erie Lackawanna Railway Co. Chessie was to have purchased portions of those operations but was unable to negotiate agreements with the labor unions involved by the Feb. 11 deadline relative to the U.S. Railway Association's final system plan.

Watkins said the main function of the 1973 Regional Rail Reorganization Act under which ConRail is created is to set up a financially self-sustaining rail system. He said that the solvent carriers are the keystone to an efficient rail network and if they are jeopardized, the central purpose of the act to provide adequate transportation for the region will be defeated.

He added that the solvent systems, including the two for which Chessie is the holding company—the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co., "will be severely damaged if Big ConRail becomes the future recipient of additional billions of dollars of government subsidy funds."

"We cannot compete with the government's ability to tax," he said. "We can and we are prepared to compete with a financially self-sustaining ConRail, operating under the same conditions as any private enterprise railroad."

He said that in effect, the 1973 law itself ultimately prevented Chessie's acquisition of significant portions of the other railroads by detailing what labor conditions would be before ConRail and the final plan were established.

Chessie strongly was interested in the acquisition, despite reports to the contrary, he said.

Chessie was to pay $54.5 million cash for about 2,200 miles of the Erie Lackawanna and Reading railroads, a smaller segment of Penn Central, 744 miles of other trackage rights and a variety of equipment and facilities.

Watkins argued that ConRail as now planned will not provide competitive choices in many markets and will place a heavier rehabilitation burden on taxpayers.

ACC Cage Playoffs Surprising

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Open the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball playoffs and you'll always find a lot of surprises.

That's what happened Thursday — to no one's surprise.

The incomprehensible ACC playoffs continued to be just that as Virginia popped up and beat 17th-ranked North Carolina State 75-63. Clemson stunned Wake Forest with surprising ease, 76-63, and ninth-ranked Maryland had to fight for its life against Duke before pulling out an 80-78 thriller in overtime.

The results set up tonight's semifinals pitting Clemson against fourth-ranked North Carolina, the ACC's regular season champion, and Maryland against Virginia.

"It's great that we're still here," said Clemson Coach Bill Foster, who finds it great to be anywhere at this stage of the game. His Tigers are on probation and can't go to the NCAA playoffs, even if they do manage to sweep the ACC tourney.

Lawrence Boston hit a jump shot off a rebound with three seconds remaining in overtime to pace Maryland past Duke. Wally Walker and Mark Iavaroni combined for 42 points to spark Virginia over North Carolina State and Stan Rome's 20 points led Clemson's rout of Wake Forest, an ACC giant-killer earlier this season.

While the ACC tourney was opening, the Southern Conference playoffs were closing. Virginia Military Institute overcame Richmond's stall-ball tactics to beat the Spiders 41-33 and claim a berth in the NCAA playoffs.

Elsewhere Thursday night, Texas Tech whipped Houston 80-69 and Arkansas defeated Southern Methodist 74-70 to advance to tonight's semifinals in the Southwest Conference playoffs; Georgia Tech stopped Tulane 74-68 and Memphis State trimmed St. Louis 73-69 in the Metro-Six quarterfinals and Western Kentucky beat Middle Tennessee 88-78 and Morehead outscored Austin Peay 88-83 in the semifinals of the Ohio Valley Conference playoffs.

In the ECAC's sprawling regional playoffs, third-ranked Rutgers bounced Long Island University 104-76 and 16th-ranked St. John's topped St. Peter's 75-67 in the opening of the Metro Division; Niagara beat St. Bonaventure 67-66 and Syracuse thrashed Manhattan 83-57 in the Upstate New York tourney and Providence turned back Holy Cross 64-61 and Connecticut stopped Massachusetts in the New England regionals.

VMI, trailing by an incredible 9-8 score at the half due to Richmond's slowdown, rallied in the second half behind a quick defense to beat the Spiders.

Rick Bullock scored 28 points and collected 18 rebounds to lead Texas Tech past errorprone Houston. Marvin Delph and Ron Brewer stole errant passes and cashed them in for layups in the last two minutes to help Arkansas beat SMU. Tech and Arkansas will meet tonight for the right to play Texas A&M in the finals.

Harry Allen sank four pressure free throws in a 30-second stretch of the second half to help Georgia Tech hold off Tulane. John Gunn capped a Memphis State comeback with a pair of crucial tip-ins inside the final four minutes as the Tigers nudged St. Louis. The results thrust Memphis State into tonight's Metro-Six semifinals against Louisville while Georgia Tech landed a berth opposite Cincinnati.

Western Kentucky took the lead for good on a Wilson James basket with just over eight minutes left and went on to defeat Middle Tennessee. Andre Jones scored 27 points and Ted Hundley added 20 as Morehead overcame a 21-point deficit to upset heavily favored Austin Peay. The victories put the winners into tonight's OVC finals.

Glen Williams scored 25 points and backcourt mate Frank Alagia added 16 to lead St. John's in the ECAC's Metro Division finals Saturday. Rutgers earned a spot in the championship round at New York's Madison Square Garden with a bad beating of LIU behind Mike Dabney's 22 points.

Mike Hanley sank a crucial basket with 32 seconds remaining to pull Niagara ahead and Skip McDaniel added two clutch free throws with 17 seconds left to lift the Purple Eagles over St. Bonaventure. Syracuse beat Manhattan with a combined 40 points from Chris Sease and Jim Williams.

Bruce Campbell converted four free throws in the last 28 seconds, lifting Providence over Holy Cross. Joey Whelton hit an 18-foot shot with three seconds remaining, pulling Connecticut past Massachusetts.

Elsewhere, Wichita State and Southern Illinois emerged as the front-runners in the Missouri Valley Conference race. Wichita State beat Bradley 84-74 and Southern Illinois eliminated West Texas State from contention, 53-46. The leaders are tied for first place with one game left.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

There is a new look in Ohio high school sports this year and tonight the Pickaway County schools will step into the center spotlight for the first time.

Girls basketball has finally come into its own and for the first time there will be a state tournament and a state champion.

Westfall will open the action for the Pickaway County teams when the Mustangs face Lakewood 7 p.m. at Lancaster with Circleville meeting Wehrle at 8:30 p.m.

The luck of the draw — it always seems to happen to us — pits Teays Valley against Logan Elm 7 p.m. Saturday at Lancaster High School.

We would like to wish coach Linda Diltz and her Mustangs, coach Kathi Thompson and the Logan Elm Braves, coach Angie Rinehart and the Vikings and coach Joy O'Brien and the Circleville Tigers all the best as they tread the tournament path for the first time.

They can be assured that Pickaway County fans will be rooting for them just as hard as they have cheered for the boys teams in tournament competition.

Once you hit the tournament trails, you can just about throw season records out the window as it suddenly becomes a new breed of cat.

We have seen top rated teams go down the drain in their opening tournament round and have had the pleasure of watching "Cinderella Teams" come out of nowhere to cause havoc in the run for state honors.

Just do your best and we are sure that you will be a credit to yourself, your school and your community — No one can ask more than that.

There is a sign in the Circleville High School locker room — boy's locker room that is — that in our book sums it all up.

It says — "Winning is not the most important thing — But wanting to win is."

Our "fearless" forecast — If the Viking can put everything together, top seeded St. Charles could have a rough night ... Logan Elm has the guns to shoot down the Bexley Lions ... Circleville will pick apart Pickerington ... We look for the Westfall girls to hit the winning trail ... The Tigress will be too much for Wehrle ... In the county battle, the Braves will upset second seeded Teays Valley in a close one.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Bench Occupied, But Not Productively

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — There are all kinds of things to occupy Johnny Bench's time nowadays. Everything, but what he's supposed to, and wants to do.

"There's plenty to do here," said the Reds all-star catcher who is in Florida along with several of his Cincinnati Reds teammates who are waiting for the baseball club owners and players to work out a compromise on the reserve clause and pension plan.

"Tennis, golf, dog races, fishing. Heck, I haven't even played golf yet." He has gone deep sea fishing, and hooked a 250-pound shark. Earlier this week, he beat pitcher Tom Carroll in tennis.

But it's not the kind of winning that Bench wants.

"I'm here to play," said Bench. "But the doors are locked."

He has been conducting workouts at the University of South Florida, for several of the Reds, who have already migrated South.

Fred Norman, Bill Plummer, Carroll, Gary Nolan and Mac Scarce make up the skeleton crew of world champions who are working out on their own.

Spring training is important for Bench this year because of an off season operation on his shoulder. It has been a cause for some concern. Bench didn't realize at first how necessary the operation was. But his left arm, from its immobility all season, was just two thirds the size of the right one.

"When I flexed, I couldn't even get a muscle," he said.

It has been painful, particularly after the Superteam television taping

Hawks Top Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The news was good and bad for Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn Thursday night.

The bad news was that his second technical foul of the game enabled the Atlanta Hawks to snap a tie with 59 seconds remaining and they went on to defeat the Celtics 103-98.

The good news was that two technicals means expulsion in the National Basketball Association so Heinsohn didn't have to see the fatal ending.

In other action, the Milwaukee Bucks downed the Kansas City Kings 99-95, the Washington Bullets whipped the Houston Rockets 113-106 and the Golden State Warriors trounced the Chicago Bulls 124-110.

Atlanta blew a 16-point fourth-quarter lead against Boston but, with the score tied at 98-all, Heinsohn drew his second technical. Lou Hudson, who poured in 42 points, converted the free throw and there was no further scoring until Dwight Jones added two free throws with 12 seconds left. Hudson closed out the scoring five seconds later with a pair of foul shots.

The Celtics, trailing 80-64 at the start of the final period, rallied behind Charlie Scott and Dave Cowens and went ahead 94-93 on a pair of free throws by Cowens with 4:04 remaining. The lead then see-sawed until Heinsohn's costly technical. John Drew added 29 points for Atlanta. Scott led Boston with 25.

Hill Shares Citrus Lead

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — "Hideous," is the word Mike Hill used to describe the way he'd been putting this year.

So after he missed the cut last week and failed to qualify for the final two rounds in the Tournament Players Championship he sought some help from his wife, Sandie.

The result — 18 holes Thursday that required only 27 putts, an effort that produced a seven-under-par 65 and a tie with Mark Hayes for the first-round lead in the $200,000 Citrus Open Golf Tournament.

"I hadn't played well all year," said Hill, 37-year-old younger brother of sometimes-stormy Dave Hill. "I'd been three-putting four or five times every tournament. When you're putting like that, it gets to your whole game. It was just awful. I knew I was doing something wrong."

So he sought some help from his wife.

"I told her what to watch for," he said. "I firmed up Thursday's brilliant round. 'All it takes is good eyes.'"

She found Mike was breaking his left wrist on his putts.

"When you do that, you're either going to lose acceleration or pull it," he said. "I firmed up the right hand and now it's a lot better. I didn't miss anything I should have made."

And Hayes, who had a strong fifth-place finish last week, recorded an even more remarkable effort on the relatively flat, true greens at the pine-studded, 6,929-yard Rio Pinar Country Club course. He oneputted 11 times — including a couple from about 35 feet.

Oberlin Faces ON

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Oberlin seems to have a penchant for playing well in the Ohio Conference basketball tournament.

The Yeomen, although they only finished fourth in their own division during the regular season, are just one victory away from their second straight berth in the conference tournament finals.

Oberlin matches its 13-10 record against OC Northern Division winner Ohio Northern (17-8) tonight in the north tournament finals at Wooster.

Form says it will be Ohio Northern. The Polar Bears trimmed the Yeomen twice during the regular season 70-50 and 71-60.

In the Southern Division tournament finals at Denison tonight, favored Wittenberg (19-3) takes on Otterbein (21-5). The two rivals won on the other's floor during the regular season.

Otterbein won at Wittenberg 55-53. The Tigers avenged that setback at Otterbein 55-51. The two thus shared the regular season Southern Division laurels.

Wittenberg needs a triumph to keep alive its bid for a third consecutive OC tournament championship.

The winners tonight will advance to the title game Saturday night at Wooster. The champion moves on to NCAA Division III tournament action.

Broncos Face Bowling Green

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Western Michigan can put the finishing touches on the greatest regular season ever for a Mid-American Conference basketball team Saturday.

If the 14th-ranked Broncos can beat visiting Bowling Green (8-7), these are the accomplishments that will be theirs:

—A 24-2 overall record, the best in the league's 30 years. The 1949 Cincinnati team and Toledo in 1967 scored 23 triumphs.

—A 15-1 MAC accomplishment, the first time a conference champion has posted that many victories.

—The 24 successes would surpass the previous school record by seven triumphs. The 1929 Western Michigan team went 17-0.

No matter what happens Saturday, the Broncos are assured of their first berth in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament.

Western Michigan will play an at-large selection Saturday, March 13, at South Bend, Ind. Big Ten champion Indiana will face another at-large team in the other game at South Bend.

The Broncos have shared the Mid-American basketball crown once before, but never won the title outright. The 1953 Western Michigan team tied with Miami, but the MAC champion was not an NCAA qualifier that season.

Western Michigan scored an eye-opening 73-58 triumph at Miami Wednesday night that broke a first-place tie with the Redskins. The Broncos are 14-1, Miami 13-2 in the conference.

"We couldn't control the tempo," said Darrell Hedric, the Miami coach. "They did and that's the mark of a good basketball team."

Miami needs a victory at last-place Eastern Michigan (1-14) to at least hold onto second place. If the Redskins should be upset, Toledo (12-3) would have a shot at tying for second with a home decision over Ball State (5-10).

In other regular season conference finales Saturday, Ohio University (7-8) plays at Central Michigan (7-8) and Kent State (6-9) at Northern Illinois (2-13).

Individual events were scheduled today with the tournament concluding Saturday.

Michigan was the closest competitor with 125 points, while Michigan State was third with 114.

Wisconsin was fourth with 105, followed by Ohio State 102, Illinois 95, Purdue 41, Northwestern 36, Iowa 19, and Minnesota 14.

Kent State Leading Mid-American Swims

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Kent State, which has won three out of the last four Mid-American Conference Swimming Championships, has a commanding lead of 132 points after the first day of competition at Miami University.

Eastern Michigan was second after Thursday's competition with 95 points and defending champion Miami third with 84.

Individual events were scheduled today with the tournament concluding Saturday.

Oil, Gas Drilling Declines In State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 31.5 per cent drop in oil and gas drilling in Ohio during 1975 was caused by confusion in national energy policies, according to a state report.

The acting chief of the division of oil and gas, Theodore A. DeBrosse, said there were 1,248 new wells drilled last year, a sharp drop from the 1974 record of 1,822 and the least activity recorded in any single year since 1969.

DeBrosse said at a meeting of the Ohio Oil and Gas Association that the slump occurred despite relief during 1975 from previous shortages of steel pipe and a steady increase in prices paid for Ohio-produced oil.

"The uncertainties concerning the outcome of proposed legislation being debated in Washington had a dampening effect on overall drilling activity," the report said.

"Indeed, there are few contestants who would willingly enter a contest if there loomed the possibility that the rules might change midway in the game," DeBrosse said.

Outgoing association president Kenner McConnell of Columbus said the confusion over congressional action on oil and gas price controls "resulted in a great many people sitting on their hands waiting to see what was going to happen."

"The problem is that most congressmen know little or nothing about energy," McConnell said. "Ninety-nine per cent of our problems are in Washington D.C."

The state report showed total oil production last year in Ohio was 9.5

million barrels, up nearly half a million barrels from the previous year. In comparison, the state's natural gas production was 85.8 billion cubic feet, down 7.6 billion cubic feet from 1974, the report stated.

Drilling activity declined during 1975 in four of the top five Ohio oil and gas counties with Carroll County the lone exception with a gain of 28 per cent.

The state report showed new well completions during 1975 dropped 50 per cent in Muskingum County, 32 per cent in Coshocton County, 60 per cent in Tuscarawas County and 31 per cent in Perry County.

Cuba To 'Help' Stir Up Rhodesia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba, fresh from its battlefield successes in Angola, is gearing up to help Rhodesian nationalists trying to overthrow the white supremacist regime of Prime Minister Ian Smith, U.S. officials believe.

The Cuban plan, the officials said, probably calls for sending military advisers and training officers to Rhodesia's eastern neighbor, Mozambique. Black nationalist Rhodesian guerrillas have been using Mozambique as a staging area for guerrilla operations in Rhodesia. A steady increase in these operations has been reported in recent weeks.

Mozambique closed its border and cut off all links with Rhodesia on Wednesday after President Samora Machel said Rhodesia had engaged in air and artillery attacks inside Mozambique.

As described by U.S. officials, Cuban involvement in behalf of Rhodesian guerrillas would be much less ambitious than it was in Angola. There, Cuban troops did much of the fighting for the Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola against two pro-Western factions.

The U.S. officials said they were not entirely certain that Cuba would assist Rhodesian guerrillas nor were they able to pin down the form that Cuban aid might take. But they said they expect that some of the 12,000-14,000 Cuban troops now in Angola would be transferred to the Mozambique border area to dispense military advice and training. Such a strategy, they said, raises the prospect of border clashes involving Cuban and Rhodesian regular troops.

Thomas Buchanan Read, 1822-1872, a Cincinnati, Ohio painter, wrote the popular poem about Gen. Phil Sheridan's ride, "Sheridan Twenty Miles Away," but two of his paintings also became famous, "Milton Dictating to His Daughters," and "Longfellow's Children."

The Smith regime in Rhodesia, which broke from Great Britain 10 years ago, is currently engaged in negotiations with black leaders who are demanding an end to white rule.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger expressed support Thursday for black majority rule in Rhodesia and said the current negotiations offer the "last opportunity for a peaceful settlement."

Kissinger called on Cuba to proceed with "great circumspection because our actions cannot be deduced by what we did in Angola."

He refused to say what action Washington would take if Cuba attacked Rhodesia because "we can't be in a position of giving Cuba an indication where it is safe for them to go."

Other U.S. officials said, however, that U.S. action is unlikely in view of the hostile public view of foreign military intervention, particularly if it means defense of a white-minority regime.

The Red And Black Wrestlers Take Sixth Title

By LISA LEAHY

Seven senior wrestlers led the Circleville wrestling team to the sixth consecutive SCOL championship. Four have completed their final season, and three advanced to district competition which takes place tomorrow at Buckeye Valley.

Tony Dray, 119-pounds, has wrestled for three years. He has been out part of the season due to a knee injury and wasn't able to compete in the sectional. He commented, "I'd like to see Circleville get a new universal, a room for the wrestlers, and wrestling stats." Tony is planning to attend OSU in the fall.

Jeff Lackey, 138-pounds, placed sixth in the sectional and ended the season with an individual record of 15 wins and 10 losses. He attended the Doug Blubough Wrestling Camp last summer, which he credited for teaching him a lot of new moves and giving him more confidence.

"Wrestling takes more discipline than any other sport, but I really enjoy it," was Jeff's comment. Jeff plans to wrestle intramurals in college. He is presently considering attending University of Denver, Northwestern, or University of Kentucky.

Five-year wrestler Dave DeFrank wrestled at the 145-pound weight class. In addition to wrestling, Dave enjoys golfing, and he was a member of the CHS golf team. Dave summarized his feelings about his wrestling career saying, "I like the great team fellowship, and I'm glad I had the opportunity to wrestle for Circleville." Dave will attend OSU in the fall.

Jerry Strawser, 185-pounds, completed the season with a 13-11 record and placed sixth in the sectional. He plans to attend college in the fall but is undecided as to where he will go. Jerry considered one of the highlights of wrestling to be winning the league championship all three years he was in high school. He added, "I also want to thank the coaches for all the help they gave me. I was really dependent on them because I didn't attend at wrestling camp."

Tom Marshall, 126-pounds; Brett Christy, 132-pounds; and John Payne, 167-pounds, are the three seniors competing in the district tournament tomorrow along with junior Bill Mogan.

Tom Marshall now holds a 16-8 record. He will be a student at University of Kentucky, but he said he does not plan to wrestle his freshman year. He considers one of the hardest things for a wrestler to do besides staying at the right weight is to learn to get in the right state of mind before a match. His suggestions for the future wrestling program include having official statisticians, starting a fifth and sixth grade wrestling program, and having cheerleaders specifically for the wrestling team. He feels that Paul Kaye from Watterson High School and Ed Fracasso from Olen-tangy High School were his toughest competition.

Brett Christy, co-captain, has won the SCOL title in his weight class for three consecutive years. This year he now holds a 13-8 record. Brett stated, "I don't think I would have been as successful as I was without Coach Brent Bell and Coach Dale Harger. I know I wouldn't have gotten as far as I did."

Brett's post-graduation plans aren't definite, but if he goes to college he will attend OSU and might continue his wrestling career there.

Brett thinks that his toughest competition in the tournament will be Phil Disabato from DeSales.

John Payne, co-captain, has an outstanding record of 20-2. He won the SCOL title in his weight class both his senior and junior years. He believes that Fraker from Marysville will be the one for him to beat. "My success came from the coaches, my teammates, and my father," he said. John will wrestle in college, but he said he has not made up his mind as to where he will go.

Feyzi Serim, an exchange student from Istanbul, Turkey, wrestled for the first time this year. Throughout the season he learned various moves and strategies of wrestling and was able to wrestle in an exhibition match.

Jon Berlin Accepted At West Point Academy

By KELLY STEELE

Senior Jon Berlin was notified that he has been accepted to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Jon explained that it is recommended to start the procedure for admission at the end of the student's junior year in high school but that he did not start until early in his senior year. He was contacted at the beginning of last month and told of his offer for a place of admission.

To start his procedure he had to write to the Academy where they opened a file on him as they do each candidate. He then wrote to Ohio Congressman William H. Harsha, who selected him as a nominee. At any one time each congressman has five openings for nominations and may choose up to ten people for each opening. After this Jon had to complete a civil service test, get three recommendations, a resume, and collect test scores.

Before he could be accepted, Jon had to take a qualifying medical examination and a physical aptitude test. His records of high school performance were also reviewed. Final acceptance is based on 70 per cent academic ability, 20 per cent extra-curricular activities, and 10 per cent athletic ability.

Jon will be a member of the 4th Class, which is the entering freshmen, and will be referred to as a "plebe." He explained that the first year, discipline is stressed the most. A plebe can only do as upper classmen say and may speak only when spoken to.

New Student Welcomed

VERA 'PINKIE' RIGGS

By KELLY STEELE

This week's new student is Vera "Pinkie" Riggs, who resides on East Main Street with her older sister and brother-in-law, and her pet chihuahua, Itsu.

"Pinkie" moved to Circleville from Pearisburg, Va., where she attended Giles High School. When comparing the two schools she stated that her former school was much larger with over 3,000 students, and only six classes were held each day from 9 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. She explained that seniors were given more privileges and the dress code was less strict.

She said that it was hard to leave her senior year plus the fact that it was her first time to move away from her hometown. But she remarked that the kids at CHS are easy to make friends with and overall "The school is tough!"

"Pinkie" listed some of her hobbies as painting, swimming, and horseback riding. She plans to attend New River Community College in Dublin, Va., after graduation and study secretarial science.

Honor Grads Named

By MARSHA DENNEY

Forty-seven CHS seniors will graduate this year as honor graduates.

The rank of these students and all students in the class is determined by computing grade averages. Starting with ninth grade grades, all year-end marks for all subjects, that are applicable toward graduation will be included.

Rank-in-class is determined at the end of the junior year (six semesters), and again at the end of the first semester of the senior year (seven semesters). Grades for subjects taken during the seventh semester are included by halving the credit value for each full-year subject.

All students must attain a 3. average to qualify as honor graduates.

Honor graduates for 1975-76 year are as follows:

Gloria Alvarez, Lee Anderson, Jane Ayers, Helen Baughman, Barbara Boyer, Brett Christy, Beth Clifton, Cyndi Dancy, Linda Davies, Steve Penn.

Dave DeFrank, Lisa Ferguson, Patty Ford, Dianne Green, Jim Heacock, Gail Griebel, Suzanne Herel, Bob Hively, Linda Holveck, Kelly Jones, Gary Karr, Jeff Lackey, Lisa Leahy.

Guidance Guidelines

Applications have been received in the guidance office for Buckeye Boys State. This model government program sponsored by the American Legion is open to male juniors and is held in the summer between the junior and senior years. All junior boys are encouraged to obtain an application for this program.

The initial application period for the Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center resulted in 31 applications processed for CHS students. All were sophomores applying for two-year programs. The only vocational program receiving four or more applications from CHS students was auto mechanics. The guaranteed quota of four CHS students for most of the other programs was not filled. Students who applied will be notified by April 9 if they have been accepted into their first-choice program.

Representatives from Alderson-Broadus College, Phillip, W. Va., and Methodist College, Fayetteville, N.C., will visit CHS next week. As usual, parents are welcome to meet with these representatives during their visits here.

Elementary Students Celebrate Heritage

OLD DAYS COSTUMES — Nicholas Drive fifth graders Ian Dunlap, Lisa Arledge and Skipper Ott are pictured with teachers Mrs. Lou Weigand and Mrs. Ula Jean Metzler during Monday's celebration of Ohio's 173rd birthday. These three fifth graders will explain some of the projects for the celebration on "The Schoolies" television program.

By DIANNE GREEN

Students and faculty of Nicholas Drive Elementary School celebrated the 173rd birthday of the state of Ohio during school hours Monday.

The fifth grade classes, along with teachers Mrs. Donald Metzler and Mrs. Lou Weigand, sponsored the project. Invitations were sent to all the various grades asking for participation in the "birthday party."

"It has been a lot of fun, and I'm sure we have all learned much about our state's heritage," commented Gary Wasmer, principal of the school. "The students and teachers have really worked hard for this."

Each grade level prepared special projects for this event. The kindergarten classes made corn husk dolls, while the first grade students prepared homemade bread. Assisting the second grade in making butter was Mrs. Lucille Scott, a former teacher and guest for the day. The third through sixth grade classes prepared special Ohio reports, notebooks, and projects. All three Intensive Instruction classes joined in making ice cream. A two-tiered birthday cake was prepared by Mrs. James Sutton.

Throughout the day the following displays were presented before the children from various citizens: farming equipment, Mr. and Mrs. John Ater, George Hamrick, and Jeff Kisor; Indian artifacts, Ralph Dunkel and Trudy Yates; Carding wool and spinning, Linda Brown; and bicentennial quilting, Mrs. Mabel Walker. A goat was brought for the students to observe also.

The Bicentennial Minutemen presented a slide show of Ohio history to the upper grade-level classes.

Three of the fifth graders were selected through eliminations to appear on "The Schoolies" television program to be taped Monday. Ian Dunlap, Lisa Arledge, and Skipper Ott will go to the Columbus television station to explain some of the projects concerning moundbuilding and the original circle of Roundtown.

Women Cagers End Season, Begin Tournament Play

By LISA LEAHY

The Circleville girls' basketball team completed their season Monday, defeating a previously unbeaten Lancaster team. Tonight at 8:30 the Tigers will meet the Wolverines of Bishop Werhle in the opening round of the sectional tournament in the Lancaster gymnasium.

Circleville finished with a 11-1 record and are favored to win the Class AA Sectional. The Tigers averaged 46.3 points per game during the season to the opponent's 35. Their shooting percentage was 39 per cent from the floor and 36 per cent at the charity stripe. They dominated the boards by out rebounding their opponents 426 to 301.

The girls tied with Hillsboro for the league championship, each having a 5-1 record. SCOL honors went to the entire starting line up. Circleville players selected were Darla Hughes, senior, as tri-captain, and Natalie Martin, sophomore, for first team; Sue Crist, senior, made second team; Lisa Leahy, senior, and Sue Stevenson, junior, received honorable mention.

"Circleville's successful season was due primarily to the fact that the team had three returning lettermen as well as six players moving up from last year's undefeated reserve team," commented Coach Joy O'Brien.

Tonight's winner of the Circleville - Bishop Werhle game will meet the victor of the Westfall - Lakewood contest next Saturday. Regarding the tournament, Coach O'Brien stated, "I expect our team to do very well. If the girls apply themselves I see no reason why we should not make it to the districts."

Exchange Students Speak At Assembly

By LISA LEAHY

Five exchange students attending area high schools have recently spent a busy day at CHS. They were invited by the AFS club to speak to the student body at the International Assembly Feb. 16 and were also guests at the International Dinner that night.

During the assembly Circleville's two exchange students, Feyzi Serim and Hans Aberg, as well as the visiting students, talked about some of their experiences in the US and compared the American lifestyle to that of their native countries.

Feyzi Serim, living with the Dave Gillespie family, is from Istanbul, Turkey. He is a CHS wrestler and is planning to be on the track team. Feyzi stated, "My home life here is very similar to life in Turkey, but I think that some American parents treat young adults like children."

Hans Aberg, from Stockholm, Sweden, is presently staying with the Peter Kekenes family. He is a photographer for the annual staff and is interested in painting and tennis. He commented, "The lifestyle of Sweden is very much like the American. It's a little colder, but there are no polar bears running around as some think."

Belgium exchange student, Margherita Taverna, exclaimed, "Everything is much bigger here, and the school work is much easier!" She later talked about American food and added, "I've never eaten so much bread in all my life!" Margherita is from Adena High School in Frankfort, Ohio, and she was a guest at the home of Dawnel Bergen.

Ross Brown, an exchange student from Miami-Trace High School, said, "There's not much difference between the US and New Zealand, but in New Zealand I go to an all boys' school and when I came here I found a few added attractions." Ross was accompanied by his host-brother, Don Davis, and he attended classes with Jon Berlin.

Marisol Pastor Moreno stayed with Mark Stimpert and was the visiting student from Whetstone High School. She is from Panama and one of the biggest differences she noticed between Panama and the US was the weather and the school customs. She commented, "It's hard to adjust to the climate here because I'm used to 70-80 degree weather. I like school here better because it's easier and I don't have to wear a uniform."

From Iran was Exchange student Sousan Ghobad who commented, "I go to school every day except Friday from 8:15 to 2:30. We have no choice for classes, and it's a refreshing change to come here." She is now attending Worthington High School in Columbus.

The last speaker was a German girl, Cornelia Knorrlick, from Hayes High School in Delaware, Ohio. She is now sixteen, but she informed the students that she has to go to school for three more years after she returns to Germany. In addition to finding the school work easier Cornelia notices, "Everything is much smaller in Germany — probably because we have to cram 60 million people into such a small county."

Group Promotes Ohio Credit Rating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A spokesman for state Treasurer Gertrude Donahey said 13 top Ohio government and financial leaders flew to New York on Thursday to try to convince financiers that the state's credit still is solid.

They were to speak with officials of Standard & Poors and Moody's Investment Service, two of the leading credit rating firms in the country, as well as with a group of New York bankers.

The Ohio officials include Mrs. Donahey; Thomas Moyer, executive assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes; William Wilkins, deputy state budget director; state Auditor Thomas Ferguson, and Michael DeAngelo, deputy attorney general.

Oil was discovered in the southeastern and northwestern regions of New Mexico in 1912.

New-Type Spare Tires Seen

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Three major tiremakers here see great promise in substituting the conventional spare tire with temporary spares or tires that can run temporarily even after a puncture.

But the problem, the firms add, is to educate the public to accept the substitutes and to make the substitutes economical.

That the day of the spare tire is coming to an end was predicted here recently by E.M. Estes, General Motors president, who said that before too long the auto industry will be using temporary spares and will eventually eliminate conventional spare tires.

Estes told the Akron Regional Development Board Wednesday that the use of the new tires on cars now on the road could result in a reduction of weight that would save about one million gallons of gas daily. "The trouble is, we still don't know how to eliminate the spare on cars of the future without having to put additional weight and cost into heavier tires and possible extra equipment," Estes said.

He noted that use of the smaller spare tire being developed by tiremakers here could save up to 20 pounds or about one-third of the weight of conventional spares while increasing usable trunk space.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. noted it already markets a "run-flat" tire it says warns the driver when the tire is low on air and can be driven up to 50 miles after a puncture.

B. F. Goodrich Co. said it has given Detroit automakers samples of its "run-flat" tire concept and has marketed for nearly a decade a mounted but uninflated spare it says saves trunk space.

And a Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. spokesman said the idea of doing away with spares "is an active on-going program at Goodyear, one holding great promise." The spokesman noted Goodyear marketed a "tire within a tire" substitute for spares in the mid-1950s but gave it up in the late 1960s as "a concept that was before its time."

"There was nothing wrong with it, the public just wasn't ready to accept it," he added.

The Goodrich Space Saver Spare, a tire mounted on a wheel in the trunk to be inflated when needed by a pressurized can of inert gas, already is used in some Detroit-made cars, said Robert A. Eisentrout, Goodrich tire division marketing vice president. "We feel that this tire will continue in use until a run-flat tire is accepted," he added.

Firestone announced a runflat Advance Concept Tire some time ago and recently showed addition of a low-inflation warning device that alerts motorists by buzzer and light. The warning is needed, its spokesman said, because the tire "rolls so smoothly when it goes flat that many drivers can't tell it's going down."

Candidacy Announced For District Court

FRANKLIN SHEETER

Judge Franklin Sheeter, Athens, has announced his candidacy for Judge of the Fourth District Court of Appeals. The office is presently held by retiring Judge Gordon Gray, also of Athens, and covers fifteen southern Ohio counties.

Judge Sheeter is a graduate of Ohio University and of Ohio Northern University College of Law, and a 1974 graduate of the National College of the State Judiciary. In 1975, Judge Sheeter received an award for Superior Judicial Service from the Supreme Court for having all criminal and civil cases current. Sheeter, a republican, was an Assistant Attorney General under William Saxbe prior to returning to Athens to practice law. He was elected to the Athens County Municipal Court in 1967 and re-elected in 1973.

Judge Sheeter, age 42, is a director of the Ohio Municipal Judges Association and is Vice Chairman of the Traffic Law Committee of the Ohio State Bar Association. He has participated in establishing a rehabilitation program for drinking drivers in Athens County which has drawn national attention.

Judge Sheeter is past president of the Athens County Bar Association, past president of the Athens Lions Club, a member of the American Legion, the Ohio State Bar Association, the American Judges Association and the American Jurisprudence Society.

Judge Sheeter and his wife, Nina, have four children. They reside on a farm near Athens.

Teater spoke of the importance of port development, while Williams outlined what his agency is doing to improve the environmental quality in Ohio.

FOR SATURDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A better day for completing old projects than for beginning new ones. In leisure time, devote yourself to a creative hobby.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): If you have been planning any changes in your home or property, now is a good time to start making them. Family will not only approve, but will help.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Keen perception needed. Planetary influences somewhat restrictive. Don't risk present assets on the basis of "information" backed by nothing.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Your know-how and ability to handle the unexpected could result in outstanding advantages. Spend time and talents constructively. This day will be rich in opportunity.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Trying too hard to make a point or find a solution to a problem can delay results, but objective thinking and calm, deliberate action will help you achieve your aims.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Avoid anxiety and excitement; make no unnecessary changes in smooth-running projects. Romance and family interests in special planetary favor.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): New and diversified activities indicated. Review past week's efforts to guide you in formulating your future plans. Romance and family interests favored.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A new venture in the making? Elaborate on your tentative presentation until it assumes bright character. Some new trends indicated. You should enjoy the stimulus.

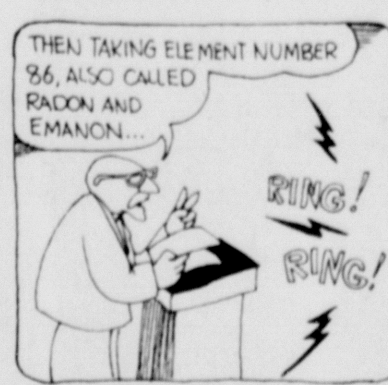

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): The accent now is on social activity. Welcome the opportunity to meet people, make new friends, perhaps make contacts invaluable, business-wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): There may be some conflict between desire and necessity. Be realistic, as the Capricornian usually is, and the answer will come. Romance and travel favored.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): A situation on your home base may be annoying but try to understand the dilemma confronting a family member. If faced in a mature manner, you can help find a solution.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A new outlook will help you to improve relations with family, associates. Insight may come through your highly intuitive faculties...

SET FOR REOPENING — Dick Pettit, owner and manager of Pettit's appliance and sports center, 130 S. Court St., makes last minute inspection of the appliance section of his store, which will have its grand opening 9 a.m. Saturday, and, in the picture on the bottom, Joanne Pettit checks supplies in the newly-remodeled sports department. Pettit's was established in 1922 as a tire and battery store, entered the appliance business in 1936 with a General Electric franchise, and added its sports section in 1957. A fire destroyed the interior of the building a year and a half ago, and fire-related structural damage, discovered during a first remodeling attempt, forced the Pettits to construct a completely new store. In conjunction with Saturday's ribbon-cutting, customers will be treated to free prizes and refreshments. A grand opening sale will run through March 13.

Reagan Attacks Ford . . .

"progressives" and openly sought Bayh's backing.

Udall, meantime, met in Washington with the Congressional Black Caucus. Later, Rep. Charles B. Rangel, D-N.Y., said the session was more advisory in nature than anything else.

Speaking at a night-time Orlando rally, Reagan stressed what he called the "basic fundamental differences" between Ford and himself.

"One candidate is a member of the Washington establishment, one is not," he said. "One candidate has faith in the Washington establishment to solve our problems. One candidate believes those who are part of the problems are not the best equipped to solve them."

Earlier, Reagan admitted that his Florida campaign may be in trouble. He said he could live with a loss to Ford, as long as his percentage of the vote did not slip out of the 40s.

"If it is close like New Hampshire, at least up there in the 40s, this would still be a campaign," he said.

Jackson's campaign organization said former United Nations ambassador Daniel P. Moynihan would campaign with the senator in joint appearances in Miami Beach Sunday. Moynihan endorsed Jackson just before the Massachusetts primary.

Aides also said the Jackson campaign has begun a stepped-up media effort in the final week before the primary, even though the candidate has discounted the importance of Florida to his political future.

Wallace, at a series of airport news conferences and an evening rally, decried the federal welfare system and what he called a one-sided detente. And he called for stronger law-and-order legislation.

In Miami, Shapp suggested a national code of ethics for top federal officials, advocating a provision requiring public financial disclosure for cabinet members, members of the president's staff, ambassadors to foreign nations and heads of federal regulatory agencies.

Shriver, in Chicago, said he is short of money and will have to rely on volunteers for the March 16 Illinois primary. And, he said, if he loses there, he may take the Bayh option.

Possible Arson Investigated

The Circleville Fire Department was called at 10:30 p.m. Thursday to the Robert Miller residence at 370 Edwards Road.

A bush was burning next to the house and firemen found that the bush had been ignited by an unidentified person or persons.

The incident is still under investigation. Minor damages were reported.

There were these other political developments Thursday:

—The Federal Communications Commission ruled in Washington that radio and television stations cannot refuse to sell a political candidate less than five minutes of air time. The ruling had been sought by the Ford campaign committee, which sought 90-second spots from WGN Radio-TV in Chicago.

The commission also turned down a request by Reagan's supporters that a Miami television station be forced to give the former governor equal time to match a series of interviews with the President.

—The Census Bureau reported more than 150 million Americans, nearly 10 million more than in 1972, will be old enough to vote in the general election in November.

NO ONE HURT — Melinda G. Pearce, 19, Route 1, was not hurt in this accident 7:56 a.m. Friday on E. Main St., west of the E. Mound St. intersection. Circleville Police Ptl. Ron Smith said Ms. Pearce was driving west on E. Main St. when she lost control of her car on the rain-slicked streets while crossing Penn Central Railroad tracks. The car skidded sideways 59 feet, jumped the curb, demolished a road sign, and traveled 56 feet down an embankment before crashing into two trees. The trees probably saved the car from splashing into Hargus Creek.

Program Funded

Gov. James A. Rhodes has announced approval of a $13,042 grant to Pickaway County for continuation of a Community Relations program in the county sheriff's department.

The community services officers work with civic groups to create community awareness and develop effective crime prevention programs in the county.

This grant will be supplemented locally with $10,660.

The State of Ohio awarded the grant under the federally approved provisions of Ohio's $21 million Comprehensive Criminal Justice Plan for 1976.
